ROYAL VICTORIA COLLEGE STUDENTS AT THE STUDENTS' COUNCIL PROPOSE MEMBERSHIP IN STUDENTS' SOCIETY FOR WOMEN UNDERGRADS.

Four Representatives From the R. V. C. Attend Council Meeting and Press Claims for Recognition as Students of the University—Want Their Full Share in the Direction of Student Affairs, but Would be Unwilling to Allow the Council to Legislate in the Matter of Such Things as R. V. C. Local Activities—"We Do Not Exist," Said One Representative—Would Want Direct or Indirect Representation On the Council.

Last night was Royal Victoria College night with the Students' Council. For two hours and a half four representatives of the Royal Victoria College sat and debated with the members of the Council as to the practicability or impracticability of the women students becoming members of the Students' Society of the University. The four members of the student body of the Royal Victoria College Undergraduates' Society who were in attendance at the Council meeting were Misses Spier, Duff, Newnam and Hurd. Miss Spier, the president of the Royal Victoria College Undergraduates' Society, presented a resolution which had been passed by that Society at its last meeting, asking for the granting of membership in the Students' Society to the women students. The resolution read: "That the Royal Victoria College undergraduates be made members of the Students' Society of McGill University, and that the representatives be authorized to discuss upon what terms such admission could be granted."

If the purpose of the meeting was to discuss questions arising from the resolution, that purpose was fully justified, for practically every possible phase of the matter was investigated, and particularly the relations which would exist between the Royal Victoria College Undergraduate organizations and the Students' Council should the proposed change be brought about. After much discussion, the question finally resolved itself into an admission on the part of the Royal Victoria College representatives, that all the women students would gain from the proposed arrangement would be a voice in the control of the editorial management and policy of the Daily, since the Council would have only nominal control over Royal Victoria College affairs. What they evidently wanted was to be granted recognition as a separate Faculty, to control their own affairs, and yet to be members of the Students' Society, and elect a representative to the Students' Council. Miss Hurd, one of the R. V. C. representatives, stated that not only was the R. V. C. desirous of acquiring membership in the Students' Society, but that also they wished to have "the same voice in the governing of the University as the men students have." "At present," said Miss Hurd, "we are scarcely recognized as students of the University. In fact, in reference to the Daily, we have been told that we do not exist."

Questioning on the part of Mr. Common, president of the Students' Society, and Chairman of the Council, brought out the fact that the Royal Victoria College students were willing to divert their funds to the Students' Society under the proposed arrangement, but they would expect the Council to employ these funds solely in connection with R. V. C. organizations, and at the same time allow the Council no voice in the matter of the direction of expenditures. The women students would expect either direct or indirect representation on the Council, through a direct representative from the R. V. C., or through the Arts representative whom they would help to elect. They would require that all undergraduate offices be open to women students, and would also require that they have a voice in matters affecting the whole student body of the University, such as the erection of new residential buildings, the Literary and Debating Society, the Historical Club, and the Philosophical Society.

Mr. Common pointed out that in his opinion the whole matter of membership in the Students' Society on the part of the women students would resolve itself into a share in the control of the Daily and certain minor clubs, such as the Orchestra and the Mandolin Club, since the women students would be unable to compete in University athletics and to become members of the Students' Union, while other organizations have their equivalents in the system of R. V. C. student administration. To this Miss Spier agreed. Mr. Common further maintained that in view of this proposed scheme would bring about no change, other than R. V. C. participation in the policy of the Daily.

since the direction of R. V. C. activities would remain as now, and the funds contribute by R. V. C. students would not be diverted from their present course.

Mr. Gerrie, president of the Athletic Association, asked if in the event of the change being brought about, the women students would expect their athletic prowess to be recognized by the granting of University letters. Miss Spier replied that in her opinion the R. V. C. students would prefer to have their own letters. It would be impossible, she said, to connect the athletic organizations of the two institutions. The R. V. C. students, she thought, would be unwilling to cede the direction of their rink to the Council, although they were quite willing that the Council would undertake its management.

Mr. Tsolainos asked if, under the proposed scheme, the Council would have power to close the R. V. C. Rink, if such action were considered profitable. "Of course," Miss Spier said, "we would like to have our rink." The R. V. C. might agree to the closing of their tennis court, if such was considered necessary by the Council. Mr. Common again stated that in his opinion the Daily was the only activity in which the R. V. C. students would be entitled to participate under the new arrangements.

K. P. Tsolainos, representative from Arts, asked Mr. Common to state the powers of the members of the Student Society over the Editor-in-Chief of the Daily.

Mr. Common stated that the students of the four faculties, who have paid the universal fee of ten dollars, vote for the representatives to the Students' Council from their several faculties. The Students' Council appoints the President of the Daily from among its members, and the Editor-in-Chief on the recommendation of the President. Apart from the vote, therefore, the members of the Students' Society have no control whatever over the Editor-in-Chief, and no

THREE SCI. GRADUATES WIN HONORS OVERSEAS

Capt. Spencer Gets Bar, and Lieuts. Ivey and De Gruchy Military Crosses.

Lieut. Charles Southwell De Gruchy, of the Canadian Field Artillery, who has been awarded the Military Cross for displaying great courage and skill in establishing and maintaining communication under very heavy fire and materially assisting in the success of the operation, is a graduate of the class of Science '11. He is a son of Philip De Gruchy, 638 Belmont avenue, and before enlisting a year ago was employed on the Government works at Halifax, N.S. He went overseas in command of a draft of field artillery from this city, and recently has been attached to the 10th Field Battery, 2nd Brigade, C.F.A. Some years ago he was connected with the celebrated engineering firm of Waddell and Harrington, Kansas City.

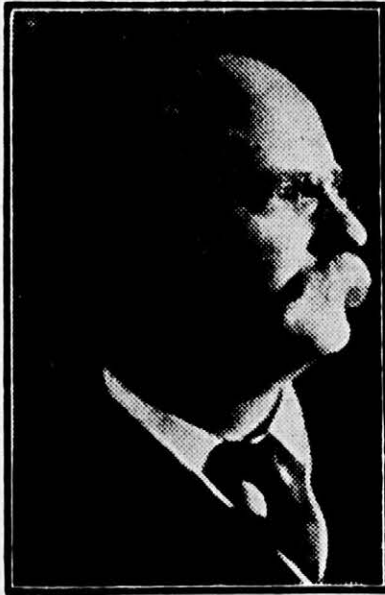

Lieut. Charles H. Ivey.

Lieut. Charles Herbert Ivey, Sci. '11, awarded the Military Cross for "succeeding in laying a trench with tracing tape in spite of very heavy fire, and later showing marked skill and courage in guiding a working party to the site," went overseas with the Taird Canadian Divisional Engineers, in which he enlisted a year ago. Lieut. Ivey's home is in London, Ontario, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Ivey, reside in that city. News of the award of the Military Cross to Lieut. Ivey preceded the official announcement issued by the War Office.

Capt. R. A. Spencer.

Captain Roy Aubrey Spencer, Sci. '14, awarded a bar to his Military Cross, was educated with the Forest Product Laboratories before he enlisted a year ago in the Tunnelling Company of the Canadian Engineers then in process of organization at Pembroke, Ont. After being graduated from the Faculty of Applied Science, Capt. Spencer pursued post graduate work at the University, taking his M.Sc. degree. Not long ago he won the Military Cross for gallantry at the front, and now he has been awarded a bar to his medal for displaying great courage and skill in counter-mining against enemy galleries. On one occasion, says the Official Gazette, he was cut off from his own lines for twelve hours. News of the award of the bar to Capt. Spencer's medal was received at the University several days ago.

AT THE LAW DINNER.

HON. C. J. DOHERTY, Law '76.
Who it is expected will be a speaker at the Law Dinner to-night.

HON. C. J. DOHERTY MAY BE GUEST OF HONOR

Law Students Hold Annual Banquet This Evening at Queen's.

Hon. C. J. Doherty will be in all probability the guest of honor at the Law Banquet which will be held this evening at the Queen's Hotel at 7.00 p.m.

The Honorable Charles J. Doherty was born in Montreal on the 11th of May, 1855. He was educated at the Christian Brothers' School, St. Mary College and McGill University, where he received his B.C.L. degree in 1876. He was married in 1888 to Miss Catherine Lucy, the daughter of the late Edmund Barnard. He became one of the leaders of the bar, and pleaded successfully before the Privy Council in England. He has been Professor of Civil and International Law at McGill University for many years. He was president of the University Literary Society. He unsuccessfully contested, in 1881, Montreal West for the House of Commons, but in 1911, after the defeat of the Laurier Administration, he was sworn in the Privy Council, and accepted the office of Minister of Justice.

It is expected that there will be at least 40 present at the banquet. The (Continued on Page 2.)

Y. M. C. A. SKATING PARTY IS SUCCESS

Moonlight Bands Enjoyed by Some Fifty Couples at Campus Rink.

The second of the skating parties held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. took place last night at the Campus Rink, and was a thorough success. About fifty couples were present, the attendance being large considering the comparatively short notice given. In honour of St. Valentine, the programmes were adorned with red and gold hearts and arrows in the upper left hand corner.

When the filling of the programmes had taken place, the ladies adjourned to the rink, the men, as usual, putting on their skates at the Hall. When they were ready they ran over to the rink and the first band began, the faithful hurdy-gurdy supplying the music. Ten bands were skated to the great enjoyment of all present, an innovation being introduced in the form of two "moonlight numbers," when the lights were turned off and the skaters circled round in the half-light. Owing to the absence of a moon, skating was a little difficult in these bands, but everybody was pleased at the novelty.

At about eleven all left the ice for the Hall once more. There the ample refreshments supplied by the committee in charge were enjoyed. Candy, in the form of red and white hearts was also passed round, and was found most agreeable.

After the refreshments, "Hail Alma Mater" was sung, followed by the National Anthem, and the McGill yell, after which the party broke up.

All thanks are due to the members of the committee who were in charge of the function, and to Miss Hurlbatt and Miss Fletcher, who kindly acted as hostesses.

Economy is to-day the duty of the British People. Economy means spend judiciously and get value for your money. False Economy is to buy a shoddy article simply because the price is low, it means buying another to replace it in a short time, and the garment is not worth repair.

True Economy is to avoid extreme fashion, buy a good article of sound material and well made, that will give long wear, continual comfort and pleasure to the wearer and will look well to the end; such garments are worth taking care of and repairing. ## THE COLLEGE SONG.

It seems almost incredible that we should have in our midst students of two or three years' standing who have not yet learned to stand and take off their hats when the University hymn is being sung. It is the case, however, as it was clearly evidenced at the Arena on Monday last.

During the singing of "Hail Alma Mater" by the Rooters' Club, more than one man, who was attended by one, or more, of the fairer sex, was noticed to pay a little attention to what was being sung as if he were as many miles removed instead of the same number of yards.

In the case of a Freshman, an act like this could be pleaded as ignorance to an universal custom, but the offenders on Monday night were far from being among this class as far as years at college is concerned, but it was evident that they had not outgrown all their verdancy.

A hymn is a hymn, and it should be received in this spirit, not as something to suit the fancy of everyone as they feel inclined. Every man should consider it an honour bound duty to stand when their college song is sung to the same extent as when the song is the National Anthem.

Of course, we realize that it may seem a terribly long while to keep from talking to her—while at the most two verses are sung. It must be frightfully painful—but did you consider what she will think when she wonders why all the rest are standing with hats removed while you continue to sit none too demurely? Think of how proud she will feel, and you ought to be the same.

Let it not be said of any McGill man that he does not respect the College which he can call his own. This respect can be shown no more affectionately or sincerely than the way he receives his college song. It is not only an obligation, but privilege to at all times remember this seemingly small, but nevertheless important matter.

FACULTY BANQUETS.

The announcement that the Faculty of Law will have a banquet to-morrow evening points us to the fact that at least two faculties are not in a state of coma as to undergraduate functions. If one is to judge by the attendant success of the medical banquet one week ago, there can be little doubt that the Law Banquet will attain the same.

The departure from the general custom of limiting the banquet to members of the Law faculty and undergraduates shows most clearly that the chief object of these functions have not been forgotten. In this way the dinner will be wholly for students, and the fact that nearly the whole student body is turning out "en masse" indicates the reception such a programme meets at the hands of those for whom it is indeed.

While the Medical faculty have had their banquet, and that of Law is soon to follow, the question naturally enough arises, "What of Arts and Science?" The value of college functions of this nature is hard to imagine, let alone estimate, for it creates an unbroken bond between members of the same class and classes as a whole. It may be urged that there should be an absence of wholesale college functions, but that does not mean that necessary ones must all go to the board. College affairs, of a full-dress nature, are, we think, out of question, and there should be no steps taken in this direction, but there can be no reason for making them so. It is not only for the menu provided, but it is for the spirit of the thing that faculty dinners are arranged, and into which one is able to enter most fully, especially at this time, when men meet on occasions of this sort in an informal manner.

There can be no excuse for the other faculties other than a lack of initiative on the part of the chosen officials, when Medicine and Law have entered in with such ardour and achieved such results.

ROYAL VICTORIA COLLEGE, ETC.

body of students has any right to veto articles which concern their special faculty. Naturally, therefore, if the R. V. C. students were granted membership in the Students' Society, even then their original request to control the policy of the Daily in all matters concerning the R. V. C. activities could not be realized, for the authority of the Editor-in-Chief would remain unimpaired, and as it is at present, Mr. Common pointed out that the responsibility of the Editor cannot be shared with, or delegated to, any body of persons whatever contributing to the paper.

After some further discussion, the matter was laid on the table for consideration at a future meeting of the Council. When the representatives of the R. V. C. withdrew there was a concerted rush towards the match box.

Other matters brought up at the meeting for consideration included a report by Mr. Gerrie on the recent Rooters' Club celebration. A financial statement on the demonstration was also read and adopted. Mr. Common, on behalf of the Students' Society, tendered the thanks of the meeting to Mr. Gerrie for the manner in which he directed the affair.

A letter was read from Mr. Milne, the president of the Science Undergraduates' Society, notifying the Council that at an open meeting of his Society it was decided to amend the constitution in such a way as to include the Science Faculty representative on the executive of the Society with full voting powers.

A letter from Peter A. G. Clark, president of the Arts Undergraduate Society, stated that a resolution had been adopted by that Society recommending the amendment of the constitution of the Society to include the Arts representative ex-officio as a member of the executive, "with the proviso that this resolution come not into effect until such time as the Arts representative to the Students' Council is made responsible to the Arts Undergraduate Society." This matter, after some discussion, was laid on the table.

The members of the Council present were Frank B. Common, M.A., president; W. H. Gerrie, Athletic Association; H. R. Morgan, Students' Union; A. H. Greenwood, Football Club; K. P. Tsolalinos, Arts; J. W. Rooney, Hockey Club; H. H. Pitts, Medicine; W. H. Schiedel, Science; T. P. Dillon, Law.

A resolution of sympathy was passed to Dr. Charles E. Moyle in the death of his son, Major John J. Moyle, a former member of the Students' Society.

The Editor, McGill Daily:

As I was present at last night's meeting of the Council, and as there seemed to be some misunderstanding as to the nature of the Philosophical Society and of the Historical Club, in that it was supposed that they were controlled by the Students' Council, I would beg to clear up this matter. The Philosophical Society and the Historical Club are purely private Clubs, which are independent of any control of either the Council or of the Undergraduate Societies of any faculty whatsoever. Membership is open only to those who are elected into the societies, and they are more or less under the auspices of the departments concerned. I may say that they receive no subsidy from any source, but are entirely supported by their members.

R. J. CLARK.

GUY KIRBY FORCED TO LEAVE TRENCHES.

The following has been received in answer to an inquiry regarding Guy H. Kirby, Sec. '17:

"Guy went to France in August, 1915, with the First University Company, joining the Princess Pats, who were with the 27th Division near Frise on the Somme.

"When that Division went to Greece (I believe), the Pats were sent north to join the other Canadians, and at one time acted as an instruction battalion to a school for officers.

"In February, 1917, he was sent to a hospital to rest his heart as the muscles were strained. Later it was found that it was incurable, so he was sent to the base in England, being recommended to be given work as a clerk at Shorncliffe C. A. S. C. T. D. However, he was made a waiter at the Officers' Mess, and although time after time he has been promised a position in the Pay Office, it has not come to him yet. They have been very short handed at the Mess, and have had only five or six to wait on 60 to 80 officers, so that often Guy says it is harder than being in the trenches. He certainly ought to have been given what the doctors recommended.

"The Faculty," will be proposed by G. Prevost, and to be responded to by Dean H. W. Lee. "The Bench," to be proposed by H. A. E. Rose, and will be replied to by Judge Green-shields. The attendance this year has been restricted to the professors and students of the Faculty. Formerly it was the custom to sell tickets and to solicit patronage from the graduates in Law of the University, and while these latter can secure tickets, yet no special canvass is being made of them. There will be only a few speeches, but these will be good.

CREATE A MEMORIAL TO CAPT. BLACKADER

Dr. A. D. and Mrs. Blackader Make Gift to University in Honor of Their Son.

At a meeting of the Corporation of McGill University, held yesterday, the establishment of a memorial by Dr. A. D. and Mrs. Blackader in honour of their late son, Captain Gordon Home Blackader, B. Arch., was reported. The memorial will be in the form of a sum of money which they promise will amount, within a few years, to not less than $5,000, to be invested by the University, and to form a permanent fund, of which the interest shall be devoted to the purchase of books on architectural subjects. These books shall be kept together in the University Library, there to form a special Architectural collection to be known always as the Gordon Home Blackader Memorial Library, which shall be for the use of architects, advanced students and other suitable persons, under such conditions as will ensure freedom from loss and injury.

The Corporation gratefully accepted the memorial, whilst expressing at the same time their great regret for the circumstances which have given rise to its foundation.

The late Captain Gordon Home Blackader was the first graduate in Architecture of McGill University. On the outbreak of war he volunteered for active service, and was given command of a company in the 42nd Battalion, Royal Highlanders of Canada, C.E.F., and after eight months' service in France was wounded near Ypres on June 2nd, 1916, and died in London on August 10th of the same year.

the north by the Drave and the Danube, while the southern frontier would run through Northern Albania, starting somewhere near Durazzo. Before centralizing all the Yugoslav states it might perhaps prove wiser first to federalize them for a generation or so; but this would only constitute a first step towards complete union.

On the part of the Entente combination, in Italy alone might some objections be raised to the formation of a Greater Serbia. It is to be hoped, however, that the Serbian government will rather follow the liberal and far-sighted policy which Mazzini advocated seventy-five years ago, than the selfish and short-sighted one which was adopted by Giolitti and the Marquis di San Giuliano, who worked in concert with Austria, after the first Balkan war, to prevent Serbia from obtaining her indispensable "window" on the Adriatic.

In the latter part of his lecture Dr. Colby gave some illustrations of the strong national feeling that exists in Croatia and Bosnia.

In Croatia the most striking manifestations of national sentiment have occurred in the course of the debates of the Croatian Parliament at Agram, or Zagreb, as it is called in Serbian. Like the Czechs of Bohemia, the Croats have, in recent years, fought, but in vain, to secure their political autonomy.

UNION SENDS ITS REGRETS.
 At a meeting of the Union House Committee held at McGill Union yesterday afternoon, a vote of regret was passed to be forwarded to Dean Moyle, on the death of his son, the late Major J. J. Moyle. Dean Moyle is a life member of the McGill Union.

Permission was granted to the Science Undergraduate Society to use the lounge and reading rooms on February 23rd, for the purpose of holding a faculty smoker.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Dunbar and Sutherland was appointed to investigate the practicability, or impracticability of re-opening the library of McGill Union.

THE WEATHER.
 Generally fair, becoming warmer throughout the day.
